Moderator's Corner

Hi Southeast Conference Friends!

I hope this note finds you enjoying a summer full of blessings. For many of our churches, it's the traditional season for Missions Trips, Vacation Bible Schools, Graduation Celebrations, Church Picnics, and Fish Fry's. And - of course... let's not forget our wonderful tradition of gathering and being church all together at the Southeast Conference Annual Meeting!

At this year's annual meeting, you blessed me and many others by installing us as your Conference Board Members. You also installed June Boutwell, a dedicated, well-equipped, and caring leader, as our Designated Conference Minister. Thank you for entrusting us and so many other conference staff and volunteer leaders to this important work together.

As your elected Board, we recognize full well that we are only a very small part of our conference's overarching ministry. We all - clergy, lay-folk, conference staff, individuals and whole congregations - are vital parts of this unique and important body of Christ in the Southeast.

And so I am writing you now to ask, as we are looking toward fall and all the ministries that are often sparked and re-energized during that season... Won't you join us on this journey of Conference Life we began together anew this summer? We have begun to share our stories and dreams. And I encourage you to be a part of continuing that by...

- * Staying actively aware, present, and engaged in the amazing ministry and work that our churches do collectively,
- * Sharing the good news and helpful ideas from your local churches that may edify the full body, and
- * Praying earnestly for the good work of the Conference.

It is through our work with, support of, and love for each other that our churches and neighbors may find the hope and light, justice and peace, reconciliation and welcome that come through Christ. Yes, our God is alive and real and listening and very much, still speaking - and it's our collective call to make sure the Southeast knows that!

Your Conference Board members are listed below. For more information about the board and the conference, please check out the conference website at secucc.org. Also... Reading, sharing, and acting upon information from this monthly eNewsletter is a great way to engage in this conference life together.

Our first board meeting is scheduled for mid-September. I'll be in touch again soon after that. Until then Read On - and Join Us!

Jottings from June

I grew up in a singing church and one of the songs from my childhood has been repeating in my head these past few weeks.

*Count your blessings, name them one by one; Count your blessings, see what God has done;
Count your blessings, name them one by one,
And it will surprise you what our God has done.*

I have been appreciating what a blessing serving this Conference is in my life right now. The energy and hopefulness and offering of gifts has not lessened since Annual Meeting. I know with all my heart, soul, strength, and mind that God has a plan for this ministry and for each of us. For that I am truly grateful and will wait with delight and anticipation as that is revealed to us in the days to come.

For now I continue to work on that road map for the future and have been meeting with leadership in the Conference over the past few weeks. The ideas and commitment to vital ministry are filling me with joy and humble appreciation for the ministry you all have to offer to one other.

And your warm welcome continues as the fall calendar is filling up with invitations to preach, to be at events, to work with churches in various ways. Thank you for the welcome and the opportunity to develop relationships with your churches and your leaders and your faithful folk.

Especially hold in your prayers those churches in search for a pastor: Pilgrim Birmingham, Fairfield Glade, Pleasant Hill, Community Montgomery. And pray for Rush Memorial and Rev. Larry Calbert upon his retirement June 29; United Church of Cookeville and Rev. Gene Skipworth as he retires on August 31; and for Pilgrim Chattanooga and Rev. David Brown as he retires on December 31. Many things are in transition in Southeast Conference and we need to hold all that in the light of God's grace and in our daily prayers.

From July 29-August 6 I have been observing Sabbath time - enjoying the company of my sister and her husband and taking some time for renewal and relaxation. I am excited to return refreshed and ready to hit the road with the ministry!

Blessings, June

August is here and it's time now for your church to begin planning for your Fall Pledge and Stewardship events. Do you have your committee formed? All of your planning and work around the pledge season can be made fun and fruitful by utilizing the resources available from our 2014 UCC Stewardship Materials which are now available from UCC Resources. You can get these materials by visiting <http://www.ucc.org/stewardship/> or by calling 1-800-537-3394

This 2014 Stewardship season theme is Blessed to be a blessing.... All peoples on earth will be blessed through you" Genesis 12:3. Materials available include a Graphics Kit, Bulletin Inserts, Giving charts and Commitment/Pledge cards.

Often we talk about Generosity, it's meaning, it's role in our lives or how it can be measured. I recently came upon a poem by Ralph W. Seager, that, for me, captures it all. It's called The Extravagance of God. Ralph W. Seager was an American poet from Penn Yan, NY (1922-2008).

Literacy is a justice issue! The UCC would like to encourage congregations to participate on September 8th on project "One Read". This initiative is designed to engage people of faith and provide a common ground surrounding the literacy crisis in the U.S. Our hope is that, through reading and discussion, we will come together, stimulate conversations, and facilitate learning within and beyond our congregations.

It is simple to participate in One Read. Buy and read the book, Hotdogs and Hamburgers: Unlocking Life's Potential by Inspiring Literacy at Any Age by Rob Shindler, download the free discussion guide, and encourage your congregation, friends and family to join in. You can get more information about this ongoing justice work of the UCC on the Reading Changes Lives website by clicking here.
