Annual Winter Youth Retreat was a Blast!

150 youth from 16 churches in both the Southeast and Southern Conferences of the UCC descended on Blowing Rock Conference Center over MLK weekend for the annual Winter Youth Retreat.

It was a packed weekend full of music, laughter, fellowship, skiing, and service projects. The band, Lost and Found, a dynamic, fast paced musical duo that has been playing youth conferences for over 25 years, led our morning and evening worship sessions.

The theme of the weekend was "Tell your story" and each time we gathered together as a group for worship and programming we were given various chances to tell our stories to one another. In Luke's Gospel, Christ tells the disciples to go and tell what they have seen and heard...When we feel encouraged to tell how and when God has been active in our lives we quickly find out that the barriers that separate us as individuals fall away. We tell our stories and glimpse pieces of our own journeys when we hear other's stories.

I am convinced that by investing in our youth we are investing in the future of the church. By empowering them to speak out, by exposing them to progressive theology, and by giving them a community in which asking questions is encouraged we are providing the framework for a faith that can stay with them through the trails and challenges of life.

The Winter Youth Retreat is something our Conference can be proud of and something we should brag about. The long weekend was an affirmation of unity and progress. As I looked out across the glowing red mountains of North Carolina, I was reminded of the energy and vision of a wider church body that feels committed to the work of United Church of Christ. That they may all be one- certainly manifested itself in our common gathering.

Please join our Facebook group "UCC Winter Youth Retreat" for updates and information about how you can join us next year on January 15-18, 2016.

Jottings from June

Glory be to the One whose power, working in us, can do infinitely more than we can ask or imagine. (Ephesians 3:20-21)

We will begin the season of Lent this month with Ash Wednesday on February 18. Lent is perhaps the most meaningful part of the church calendar for me. It is a time when we are encouraged to be reflective and to consider deeply what is at the foundation of our faith and values as a human being and a follower of Christ. I am always deeply moved by the fully human one who is sent to us from God to assume all the joys and sorrows of the human condition.

As I reflect on Unexpected Places, the theme of General Synod (the biennial national meeting of the UCC) for 2015, and as I consider the changes in my life with the loss of my mother and other significant family situations, I suspect that my Lenten reflections will be on those unexpected places when God showed up in my life. As a minister whose primary vocation has been as an interim, there is no hesitancy about entering those unfamiliar and new places and situations. There is actually a part of me that relishes the new and is excited about the undiscovered things to be revealed in new relationships and locations and challenges. But would I be so excited if I knew the cost of this kind of discipleship in detail if it meant that I would have to give my life for my faith.

What does it mean for my life and my ministry when I find myself at the foot of the cross or standing at the entrance of the empty tomb? What does it mean for my life and my ministry when I pray and seek to find a way to respond to the human violence and suffering in the world? What does it mean for my life and my ministry when I am asked to step into a new place to witness to another person or to a struggling community what hope and renewal and life lived fully might look like?

I hope that during this reflective season you will be blessed with the vision to see the places where God has shown up in your life, in the life of your church, in the life of the community around you. Each of us will experience grace in our own way. May that experience lead to reflection, prayer, joy, and even a tear or two as we walk this faithful road seeking the Christ to be revealed to us unawares in the midst of our daily comings and goings.

Blessings, June

We are beginning a process of praying for authorized ministers, congregations, and ministry groups throughout 2015. Each month, we will publish a weekly list for the month and post them weekly on our Facebook page. We encourage you to include these prayer requests in your local church newsletter, share them with your prayer circle, and include them in your own prayers.

PATHWAYS in Progress: Launching a New Cohort

Do not go where the path may lead, go instead where there is no path and leave a trail.

-Ralph Waldo Emerson

Rochelle is a lay leader at Pilgrim UCC in Marietta, GA. Rich is an entrepreneur and a local UCC church member in Larchwood, Iowa. Kim is a clinical social worker living in Knoxville, TN. Amber pastors a UCC congregation in Flowood, Mississippi. Ceil is a lay leader at Church of Savior UCC in Knoxville, TN, who hopes retire as a certified chaplain. They come from all locales, but have at least one thing in common: they are aspiring learners in theology/ministerial training who have just begun a new journey in the PATHWAYS Level 2 program.

The Level 2 program is a 15-month long program designed to equip learners for licensed ministry in the United Church of Christ. The curriculum's emphasis is on the practical side of being a minister with courses on Biblical studies, preaching, boundary training, UCC history & polity, and the hands-on supervised ministry practicum. The five cohort members are veteran learners of PATHWAYS who have all done well in the Level 1 program; they each bring exceptional gift and talent that will enrich the cohorts learning experience.

OCWM GIVING for 2014

Administration Matters!

It's time again for reporting of Yearbook statistics for the past year. The UCC Data Hub is open and ready for your submission. This year and going forward churches are responsible for inputting their information.

Debbie Spearman, Generosity Coordinator

The national office has provided an instruction booklet (Data Hub - Church User's Guide) that explains each tab within the database entry area. You can get that document by clicking here.

Before entering data at each tab, read the instructions because there are a few pointers that you will want to know prior to data entry. The instructions will walk you through the actual entry steps. There are Online Data Entry Forms attached to the last pages (pages 5-6) of the instruction booklet that could be used as a worksheet for your raw data.

To work along with the entry form worksheets is a "Tip Sheet" that explains each field that you will actually see on the data base.

The "Tip Sheet" as well as tutorial videos are available by clicking here.

Be sure to have your instruction booklet (Data Hub - Church User's Guide) available before you start to enter your data. The magical "Add or Submit" buttons means that the data has been entered and you will not be able to change it. If you save incorrect information, please contact Gerri Hudson so that the information can be changed by the national office.

Please do not contact the national office which questions or issues related to the data hub. Instead contact Gerri Hudson at 404-607-1993 ext. 0 or ghudson@secucc.org and she will be able to help you with your issues.

Please send an email to the Conference office at Gerri Hudson when you have completed your data entry.

Remember, data entry must be completed by March 9, 2015 in order to be listed in the 2015 Yearbook.

Thank you all for the work that you do in providing the national office with this important information.
